

AN ATLANTIC CIRCUIT

Preparation and experiences

Nick Mines

Nick Mines started his engineering and prototyping company 35 years ago and has used commercial experience and resources in the preparation of "Hejira", a Southerly 135, for extended cruising in his retirement. He successfully completed a 'hugely enjoyable' Atlantic circuit in 2015/16 and his yacht blogs proved to be a popular and bonding process for the crew, winning two awards from World Cruising.

Of the innovations – what worked, what didn't, what was useful and what was a white elephant?

Nick will cover how the yacht was prepared and touch on the highlights and incidents during the adventure.

1930 for 2000 hrs Monday 05 February 2018

at

UTMYC, Sonning

